

FOX INTERNATIONAL

SPORT RETAIL

Fox International is firmly established as one of the leading tackle manufacturers in Europe. With the company continuing to grow, now with a global reach, Fox International identified the need to acquire new premises in Brentwood to accommodate the expanding team.

Eden Projects, based in Kent introduced Elite from an early stage, meaning we were able to work with Eden Projects and the client at the point of design and concept, right through to the specification and fit out of the office.

From the initial designs and showroom visits, Elite were selected to furnish a majority of the furniture within the building. Finished to mirror their well-recognised logo, the use of black and orange were combined to create a stylish and modern workplace.

Elite's Linnea range was selected for the main office, with a combination of rectangular and 120 degree workstations and Progress Height Adjustable desks were selected for the manager's offices. To accompany the desks, we teamed acrylic frosted screens with a black trim matching the black edging on the desks. A number of products from our seating range was selected for use within the office and meeting spaces, including Vida task chairs, Vice Versa visitor chairs, Escape stools and Hangout Booths.
